Sayings from the week and wisdom from the tradition

The fundamental principle of science starts from a point of ignorance.

I tell first year university students that they should be delighted when they're shown to be wrong because then they've learned something.

It's learning that matters, not being right.

- Professor Brian Cox

The Christian Church has to recognise our part where there has been a conflict between science and faith. We have sometimes played into the conflict and not taken science seriously or got to grips with what it is really saying...[We must] show that science isn't necessarily a threat to faith. Science is a gift from God...Rather than being defensive, we need to allow space in our churches for faith to be both challenged and enriched by opening up these discussions.

- The Revd Professor David Wilkinson, Principal of St John's College, Durham

A prayer for church growth

God of Mission,

who alone brings growth to your Church, send your Holy Spirit to give vision to our planning, wisdom to our actions, and power to our witness.

Help our church to grow in numbers, in spiritual commitment to you, and in service to our local community; through Jesus Christ our Lord.
