The Vicar's Letter . . .

Dear friends.

Happy Christmas! Yes, we are still in the season of Christmas and continue to celebrate God's gift to us of himself as the Christ-child, God with us; we continue to reflect upon the meaning of God coming amongst us with great humility, in the tiny child, born of a young unmarried woman. Through all the 'nice' comfortable trappings of our Western approach to the Christmas season God speaks to the world simply and quietly, yet with a message that challenges many of the values of our present day individualistic, materialistic culture.

As we move into another new year I hope all of us will spend time thinking hard about the world as it is now and the world as it might be in the future. The message of Christmas is that God is in the world offering us the hope of a new way of living. Each New Year many people make resolutions, hoping to make a new start in some areas of their life.

As we move into the new year we must take time to think hard about the resolutions we might make, not just for ourselves but for all humankind. A while ago I came across the following story that I found helpful in thinking about this.

A woman recently returned from India where a small group met with the Dalai Lama for several days. The meetings focused on discussing what they believed were the 5 most important questions to be considered as the world looks to the future. The group was asked to come up with five questions before meeting with the Dalai Lama. They asked:

- How do we address the widening gap between rich and poor?
- How do we protect the earth?
- How do we educate our children?
- How do we help Tibet and other oppressed countries/peoples?
- How do we bring spirituality deep caring for each other through all disciplines?

The Dalai Lama said all the questions fall under the last one. If we have true compassion, our children will be educated, we will care for the earth and for those who 'have not'. He asked the group: Do you think loving on the planet is increasing or staying the same? His own response was, 'My experience leads me to believe that love IS increasing'.

The message of love that God speaks to us demands a response and it should lead us to action. Each of us, in some appropriate way, is able to do something to make the Kingdom of God more of a reality. May we resolve this New Year to look on all the people of the world with a renewed compassion, love and gratitude, trusting that this is how our God looks at each of us.

May the Christ-child continue to speak to you in power and simplicity this Christmastide and always.

Robin

THE CHURCH AT PRAYER (3)

Having explored briefly, in my previous two articles on prayer, what prayer is and given some initial thoughts about how and when we might pray, I want now to offer some flesh to put on the bones!

'A growing church is a praying church', I quoted last month. So, where and when is this local church praying? It must be said, of course, that there is undoubtedly more praying going on than any of us will ever know; and we must thank God for that.

First, and foremost, the Church prays at home. The Church is the whole people of God and many people are faithful in spending time with God in prayer. Some follow a regular pattern of periods set aside for prayer, for many personal prayer may be more spontaneous, if not haphazard. But God is never absent, so any time is a good time to pray! It is certainly true that prayer offered at home is a vital ministry within the life of God's Church.

Regular prayer is offered, of course, in the context of our Sunday worship. Each service is an prayerful response to God of our praise and thanksgiving. As part of each service we offer prayers of intercession, bringing before God the needs of the Church and the world. Within these prayers we name individuals know to us in particular need. We also remember those who have recently died and those whose anniversary of death is that week. It is not just members of the local church community that we bring before God in prayer, but all for whom we have been asked to pray, family, friends and others. We believe that prayer works and that God will bless those who we name.

During the week the Morning Prayer and Evening Prayer are said in the church on Tuesday to Friday inclusive at 7.30am and 4.45pm respectively. Again, prayers of intercession are said for the Church and the world and those in need. It is always good when the Vicar is joined by people in the church, but others can join in at a distance from home or work! For those close to the church they have the advantage of hearing the bell rung to remind them to stop a moment and be still.

Prayer is also an important part of many other church activities: the Pram Service, JETS, Y@K, the Harvesters group and others all include prayer within their time together.

There is always more praying that could be done. I am keen to explore the use of Prayers for Healing within worship and elsewhere. I am sure there could be more ecumenical groups meeting for prayer. I would also invite people to think about having a service of "Blessing for the Home", perhaps soon after moving into a new house, or at anytime which feels right.

Whatever you do, keep praying!

The following words are taken from the Victorian children's hymn written by A. C. Hankey (1834–1911). They were used to help children remember the seasons of the Church year. Just as the seasons of the calendar year begin with spring and end with winter, so the Church year begins with Advent and ends with the Feast of Christ the King on the Sunday before the following Advent. In between we find Christmas, Epiphany, Lent, Easter, Ascension, Pentecost and Trinity.

Advent tells us Christ is near: Christmas tells us Christ is here! In Epiphany we trace All the glory of his grace.

Those three Sundays before Lent Will prepare us to repent; That in Lent we may begin Earnestly to mourn for sin.

Holy Week and Easter, then, Tell who died and rose again: O that happy Easter day! 'Christ is risen indeed,' we say.

Thank you

Joyce and Jim Boden would like to thank the members of the church family for their prayers, cards and help during Joyce's sudden illness. We hope to return to regular church like to express their thanks to attendance soon.

Thank you Joyce for all you have done for us over the years.

We need someone to take reponsibility for organising the Brass Cleaning rota as Joyce is no longer able to do it. Please some one volunteer (before you're press- ganged!) Ed.

Yes and Christ ascended too. To prepare a place for you; So we give him special praise, After those great forty days.

Then he sent the Holy Ghost, On the Day of Pentecost, With us ever to abide: Well may we keep Whitsuntide!

Last of all we humbly sing Glory to our God and King, Glory to the One in Three On the feast of Trinity.

Fireworks Display

The customers and others would Mr and Mrs Spence of Kildwick Hall for the magnificent firework display they provided on November 5th.

It was enjoyed greatly by customers and the people of Kildwick and Farnhill and further afield as well. Thank you very much indeed

News from Partners Our Mission Partners Dear Friends,

Castle Cuttings

Thank you for your continued support and interest for us and the church here We're sorry for the long delay since our last Link Letter. Here is some of our news.

Namirembe Cathedral

At long last the new Bible Study Groups began meeting at the end of June Thank you for your prayers! After consultation among senior lay people and the interested people, we decided to hold a central meeting on Tuesdays from 5 15 to 6 30 pm (Most people prefer to go to a church meeting on their way back from work, rather than coming out in the dark).

After opening prayer and worship, we split into 2 groups of about 8 people. At the moment we are using a small conference room at Namirembe Resource Centre, just down the road (we have no suitable accommodation at the Cathedral) The intention is that in due course we will be able to start groups in peoples homes. We are also considering holding a group after the 8.30 service on Sundays. Please pray that more people would see their need to meet with others to study the Bible and pray.

The 8.30 English service attracts about 600 people, mainly from the regional Baganda tribe but also from other tribes and African ex-pats, plus a handful of Bazungu (white people). Otherwise its like many other Anglican churches in the UK, except that the average age is lower and some of the choruses are more African! Like many Anglican churches, there is a great need for spiritual revival. One hopeful sign is the group of 16 Wardens, most of whom were elected for the first time in May. Please pray that their enthusiasm and commitment will be sustained and bear fruit.

Money Problems

One sign of the spiritual situation is the financial state of the Cathedral. This would be massively helped by a combination of better planning and spiritual awakening. Your prayers for both would be appreciated! The Cathedral has two projects that ought to generate income but aren't: a house that is being built to let out for rent but isn't finished, and an old swimming pool that is in poor condition. The Cathedral also owns a large piece of land that we want to develop into a sports complex for the use of schools and youth organisations. We praying for a suitable partner with the necessary expertise and finance. Other possibilities include re-developing Cathedral outbuildings for conference and reception rooms, which would bring in an income during the week and could be used for Sunday School and church meetings on Sundays. Meanwhile the clergy houses (ours excepted) are in a dire state, and the Cathedral roof needs frequent attention. Please pray that the finance Committee would get a clear sense of priorities and a realistic vision for the future.

To be continued next month

Out and About in January

A new year, new gardening challenges. Some ideas to keep gardeners busy during the `close' season.

If you have room to grow your bedding plants from seed now is the time to be ordering them. Otherwise consider plug plants, they come on quickly with good results and cheaper than garden centre prices. Plenty of colourful catalogues available.

Clean and prepare seed trays and pots, take the mower to be serviced and shears, etc, sharpened..

Continue general tidying and clearing fallen leaves. Cut out dead or diseased wood from fruit trees

If heavy snow is forecast tie string. round conifers to prevent the weight bearing them down and breaking branches. Otherwise shake the snow off.

Remember to put out scraps for our garden birds and look out for visiting migrants in bad weather. Try and keep a supply of water available in frosty weather,

There is still plenty of colour to be seen. Look out for brightly coloured bark of Salix and Cornus and ornamental Acers. Winter heathers are coming into bloom along with Witch Hazel, Viburnums, bright yellow Mahonia and jasmine.

The shape and texture of our native trees can be seen at their best in winter especially when covered with a layer of hoar frost.

Cross Hills Naturalists' Society - January Events

Thursday 10th Microscope workshop, 6.45-9pm at the Senior Citizens Centre, North Street Sutton-in-Craven (cost 60p). Children welcome to come with an adult. Microscopes available for use at meetings.

Saturday 12th 'An Armchair Dive in the North Sea' Mr Jim Greenfield Saturday 26th 'Craven from the air' Mr Ken Ellwood.

Meetings are held at St Peter's Church Crosshills from 7pm. All welcome

One of the most well used books in our household is a dictionary. We have many and I use them nearly every day. One such is quite dog eared now and it was given to me by a very dear friend of many of us at Kildwick Albert Cummings. I like to think that he would be pleased it is not in the pristine condition it was when he gave me it but it certainly helping me through many a sticky moment, with assignments for Leeds University, has seen Charlotte and Emily through GCSE English and now Charlotte English A level.

It is interesting to read the etymologies in a dictionary, to discover the source and development of words. One word that has fascinated me recently is <code>oxymoron</code>-from the Greek oxus-sharp, morus-stupid-a complete contrast in term, which is exactly what the word means. In the past few months I have had a kind of contest with a friend to see how many oxymorons we can find. It has been great fun and the list grows ever longer with examples such as cruel kindness, sad-celebration, mini - supermarket, unacademic - university to name but a few. One of the oxymorons I thought of was in a phrase the impossible has happened { impossible not able to be done} {happen to take place to occur}

I can remember reading many years ago, before it became popular with Roger Moore as the hero, one of the books by Leslie Charteris about 'The Saint'. In this particular book a bomb was placed at a very busy time in the Centre of London and the carnage was dreadful. At that time it seemed impossible that it would actually happen -it would be confined to the realms of fantasy but events since have proved that theory wrong.

. At the beginning of 2001 we would have thought it also impossible that later in the year we would actually witness the dreadful images brought to our screens when the two planes flew into the Trade Centre. If I had read that in a book years before I would have also thought it a complete impossibility- but unfortunately not.

None of us know what will happen in 2002- but we can be certain that whatever happens time will not stand still and we must be open to change and compromise for the good of a11.

I finish the first article of 2002 as I did the last of 2001 with a quote y a little known poet.

I said to the man who stood at the Gate of the Year 'Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown' And he replied

'Go out into the darkness, and put your hand into the Hand of God.

That shall be better than light and safer than a known way'. Sound advice in an certain world where we know the seemingly impossible can

Congratulations

Jeffery Green has passed his Associated Board Grade 4 Singing with merit.

Well done Jeffery, we can see why after hearing you sing at the Carol Service.

The award winning Richard Jowett has been at it again. South Craven School has just given him an award for outstanding excellence in technology. Your technical wizardry is certainly appreciated by us all, especially the music group!

South Craven Elderly Initiative Group.

This group meets monthly at the Glusburn Institute and its aim is to inform all people of services which may be useful to them by means of Road Shows especially for the elderly. The next road show will be in March.

Any elderly person interested in having an alarm fitted in case of illness or accident should call the Health Visitor at 01535 633725 for details.

The South Craven Community Action Group (SCCA) is trying to form a walking for health scheme to help prevent heart disease in the over 40's. Anyone who is interested to come either as a walker, or to volunteer as a group leader please tel. 01535 632351. It is anticipated that the walks will be short (½ to 4 miles) so why not make walking for health your New Year's resolution!

Mr & Mrs Smith still has lots of kettles to give away to any elderly person who needs one, tel 632083 for more information
